YOUTH WHO CONFESSES TO CRIME KNOWN HERE

Jacob Taylor Awaiting Charge of Murdering Braddock Child

SPENT ONE WINTER HERE

Fanatical Behavior While in Charleroi Remembered by Police and Citizens

Jacob Taylor, a young man who for three or four months during the winter of 1912-13 made Charleroi his abiding place, has confessed to the brutal murder of 8-year-old Florence Dove, at Braddock on May 4. Arrested Tuesday at Braddock he maintained a stoical silence concerning the crime until Thursday when he broke down under the strain of continual questioning and it is stated from the county detectives office of Allegheny couny, told the most horrible tale of mutilation and the most astonishing tale of daring born of ignorance that could be imagined. When his photograph was published this morning in Pittsburg papers, it was learned that he was the same young man who two winters ago lived here.

The arrest of Jacob Taylor came after the arrest of his brother William Taylor, aged 23 in Braddock. The latter was charged with selling herbs without a license and his room later searched. There a blood-stained knife was found, together with blood-stained trousers and the hat Jacob Taylor is said to have worn when the horrible deed was committed. When these were identified as belonging to his brother, William Taylor was asked for a description of Jacob and gave it. The arrest followed at Mt. Braddock near Uniontown.

Jacob it is said described minutely his experiences leading up to the murder and told in detail of his attack upon the Dove girl. He came from Connellsville but a few days before the deed, and slept in bushes and in secluded spots, the same that he had attempted to do when he was in Charleroi in 1912.

According to his reported story, he saw the two little girls and when they came near. he says he caught each one by the arm. He then took them over the edge of the hill, to the spot on which the murder was committed, when he caught them by the throats and Elizabeth Klimek, who was the Dove girl's companion he says, became unconscious. He then attempted to make an attack upon the Dove girl, but failed in this. He drew from his pocket the knife,an ordinary table knife, with a blunt point and bone handle, sharpened to a razorlike edge, and cut a long wound on each side of the Dove child's abdomen, the girl being conscious all this time.

"He then drew the knife three times across her neck, almost severing the head. About this time the Klimek girl recovered consciousness, and began to stir. As he started toward her, she sprang up and ran. He declared he ran in the opposite direction. From that time forth he lived mostly in the vicinity of the place where the murder occurred and was free in his movements.

Taylor came to Charleroi to stay after having visited here on various occasions. He said he had come from

Former Monongahela Valley Man Arrested as Colorado Fugitive

TAKEN TO PITTSBURG

Claimed to be an escaped convict from Colorado, where it is stated he is under an accusation of murder, "Red" Gilmore formerly of Webster, was arrested late Wednesday night at Charleroi by Arthur Storer one of the force of Allegheny county detectives and was taken to Pittsburg Thursday. It is understood that he will be held for a time while detectives are working to establish his connection with a killing at Lock No. 2 of the Monongahela river.

Gilmore is known in Charleroi,where he has figured in various escapades. He is a man about 38 years old. At one time he was arrested here for carrying concealed weapons, and at another time he was brought from West Virginia by Chief of Police C. W. Albright, charged with passing a bad check.

It is stated Gilmore came to this vicinity about two weeks ago and secured work on a boat at Lock No. 4. He was taken from a boat when he was arrested. It is probable that later Gilmore will be taken to Colorado.

Death May Follow Blowing up of Pump Boat at Huston Run

BOILER GOES 75 FEET

Heavy Steel Casing Propelled to Railroad—"Bummer' Narrowly Escapes Hitting It

When the boiler of the pump-boat of the Diamond Coal company at Houston Run exploded with a loud concussion at 12:30 o'clock this morning. Edward Davis, the engineer, was blown a distance of 30 feet and scalded so seriously that he may die. The three-ton boiler was blown a distance of 75-feet to the P. R. R. tracks where it lodged directly in the path of the midnight "bummer."

The engineer of the "bummer" stopped his train barely in time to prevent wrecking it. Davis was discovered a short time later lying on the river bank by the train crew. He was removed to the Memorial hospital at Monongahela. At the time of the accident he was the only person on the boat.

Telegraph wires were broken down above the railroad tracks by the boiler as it was falling. The telegraph operator in the P. R. R. tower at Houston Run felt the jar of the explosion, but considered it of little consequence, and did not investigate. People at Houston Run were concerned with fighting a fire at the home of Mine Foreman Thomas R. Jenkins, at Houston Run, so that they failed to hear the noise of the explosion.

Some damage was wrought by the explosion. The pump-boat was of considerable value and was a complete loss.

MAY PROVE MAN WHO KILLED HIS BROTHER INSANE

Everett Kearns, a coal miner of Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, near Monongahela accused of the murder of his brother, Levi Kearnes, several months ago, was placed on trial in criminal court at Pittsburg before Judge James R. Macfarlane to determine whether or not he is insane. If the jury thinks from testimony as to Kearns' actions in the past that he is or was insane, there will be no trial for murder.

Consequently the defense under the direction of Attorney Edmond K. Trent, is making an effort to prove that Kearns was not responsible for his actions. Kearns worked in a mine with his father, Michael Kearns, and his brother Levi. Levi was shot to death in the presence of the mother of the two boys.

HOW TO TREAT THE ALIEN

"There are 11,000 Italians employed on the Pennsylvania Railroad. Italians form more than one-fourteenth of 140,000 employes on the same system east of Pittsburg. Twenty years ago there were but few. Italy is represented in practically every department of the railroad, and each day these men are making their impression. Twenty years ago all of the Italians employed by the company were laborers. Today many of them hold positions of trust and responsibility, due possibly to a great extent o their learning the English language."

These are a few facts extracted from an interesting pamphlet issued by the Pennsylvania Railroad. Further data indicates that the Italian is above all a man of ambition.

Whether Italians show any particular adaptibility for railroad work or not is a matter of small concern. That they are capturing some of the best jobs while native-born Americans are looking on and acting foolish, is a matter of some concern, and particularly significant..

Elsewhere other peoples are showing their brains and rising to top notch places. It is no uncommon sight o see a German, a Swede,or somebody lse clamber over the top of the oulders of some native-born to a high-salaried position of great responsibility.

This spirit of an incoming alien population is one of the things that makes America the great and glorious country that it is. To present immigration restrictions that would effectually stop the great influx of cosmopolitans into this land of freedom would be to create an evil effect that would be lasting. Instead of restriction of immigration, intelligent encouragement ofimmigration. Likewise is needed intelligent instruction of the unlearned aliens already here.

REACHING THEPOPULARHEART

Every twenty years or so the people give the democrats a chance to how what they can do as managers f the federal government, says an xchange. They elect a democratic resident and a democratic congress nd turn the republicans out of powr. They have hearl so many unkind nd discreditable things about the republican leaders that they conclude o give the other fellows a chance. Twenty columns of new voters have been added to the lists since the country suffered under previous democratic rule.

At least half the new voters have no recollection of hard times. And so hey vote the democrats in. Presenty the panic reaches the popular heart nce more and the voters can scarcely wait for the opportunity to turn the democrats out. That is the way the leaven is working this year.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A story is going the rounds that is the originated in a traveling salesmen's convention of a minstrel show, and its authenticity is not vouched for. A Charleroi man relates it. He says:

"I heard of a most peculiar incident the other day. A farmer grew some popping corn and stored it in a part of his stable. In the stable two mules were kept.

"The day on which the incident occurred was one of the warmest kind, with the mercury aiming for the top of the theremometer and nearly reaching there. But just to show the power of imagination, I will tell you this.

"A fire was started in that stable. Rapidly it ate its way to the location of the pop corn, which was some distance away from the mules. The barn where the mules were kept was one of those high ceiling affairs.

"You can imagine results. The corn began to pop merrily. The mules were hardly aware of the disturbance, but presently the pop corn began to fall about them.

"Can you think what happened? Well, sir, you wouldn't believe it but those mules thought it was snowing and simply froze to death."

A man went into a barber shop one day recently and asked for a hair cut.

"What kind?" asked the barber, who was a rather talkative sort of gentleman

"In silence," growled his patron.

YOUTH KNOWN HERE

Steubenville, Ohio, where he was converted to Christianity at a Salvation Army mission. One of the first experiences he had here was when he was gathered in by the police for sleeping in back of the Imperial Bottle factory He lived from hand to mouth.

He wasn't here long until he became a regular churchgoer at the First Baptist church. At that time he was all enthusiasm, and made himself conspicuous by his efforts to take a part in the church services there. He could read scarcely at all, but explained that difficulty by stating that his eyes were bad and he had no glasses In a way he seemed to possess a certain shrewdness that was characteristic He would attend meetings and if he got a chance, he would speak, telling usually of his experiences on the "sinful" streets of Ohio towns or elsewhere, where he said he had worked with the Salvation Army.

About January 11, 1913, Taylor left Charleroi. He was next seen by a railroad detective for the Pennsylvania Railroad in the station at Roscoe, in what appeared to be a state of intoxication. He was expelled from the place. At that time he was on his way to Uniontown. Since the Roscoe incident he has not been seen in Charleroi.

In his story Taylor said that his father and mother live in Fayette county near Uniontown, and that his father gathered herbs and other things of natural growth and sent them to his brother at Braddock and to him wherever he might happen to be for them to sell. His brother, it is believed is a young man who has been seen frequently in Charleroi, selling herbs and chestnuts. He seemed the shrewder of the two and was really a good salesman.

NEWLYWEDS TELL STORY IN NOTE

After the marriage young Croushore went home and wrote the following note which he placed under his mother's pillow and with his bride disappeared:

"Dear Mamma—Mary and I were married tonight.

(Signed)

"Joseph."

The young couple left town in an automobile and it is said, went to Pittsburg.

SHREWD BUYERS BENEFIT BY MAIL ADVERTISING

Advertising

COMMONSENSE people all now recognize the value of letting the public know who you are, and what you have to offer in the world in the way of commodity or service.

WHEN we speak of advertising we speak of the most powerful force that acts today in the world of business.

THE American people form by all odds the best educated and most open-minded public in the world. All they want is the truth, and when get that, they act clearly, logically and some times with surprising speed.

THE public wants to know the facts. It wants the facts about a kind of shoe or a brand of flour. It wants to know the kind of stuff tnat goes into a suit of clothes or a package of crackers.

The One Thing Above All Others

The Public Demands is Publicity

IT has learned to be very skeptical about any event that occurs in the dark.

DO not keep your light under a bushel and create the opinion that you are no longer in business. Let the people know what you have to offer to them.

CHARLEROI IS DEFEATED BY MONESSEN NINE

Monessen walloped the Charleroi baseball team on the former's lot Thursday evening in an eight-inning game by the score of 13 to 3. Excessive tingling was the thing that got the victory for the steel town fellows.

Monessen didn't wait until the game was half over to start business, but began in the first inning to do things. The result of their efforts in this session was four runs. Hits were quite numerous. After waiting an inning Monessen started again, and then waited an inning to tally once more. In sixth Monessen gathered in two runs, and in the seventh five runs were the total.

Underwood did the twirling for Monessen, and seemed able to keep things down to where Monessen fans thought they ought to be. Charleroi's scores were hard to get. The score:

Don't hide your freckles under a veil: get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

GOING AWAY!

If so, and you are wise, you will carry your money in the form of which are issued in denominations of $10, $20, $50 and $100.

They are safe, convenient and economical and are available anywhere. They are useless to anyone else, as they must be countersigned with your signature. If stolen or lost, they may be replaced.

It is the part of wisdom to take them instead of currency even on short trips. They will pay your Hotel Bills, buy your Railroad and Steamship Tickets, and be accepted as cash by the Large Stores.

The very low figure charged by the banker for his time and trouble is practical insurance against the loss of your money.

Our advice to you is prompted by the desire to render the highest type of public service.

TO CLOSE SESSIONS TONIGHT

J. Campbell White to Make Closing Address to Sunday School Folk

The nineteenth annual convention of the Washington County Sabbath school asociation which is in session at Monongahela will close this evening wth an address by Attorney J. Campbell White of New York City, who will speak of "The Sabbath School and Heathen Nations."

The convention opened this morning at 6:30 o'clock, with a sunrise prayer meeting at the A. M. E. church. The principal address this morning was made by Miss Florence Darnell of Atlantic City. The greater part of the morning session was taken up with a temperance demonstration, promotion exercises in graded work, sectional conferences and the teacher training banquet, in the First M. E. church.

Rev. D. F. McGill, D. D., of Ben Avon delivered the principal address this afternoon. The afternoon is being taken up mostly with the department business, awards, reports of department superintendents and officers and the superintendents conference.

This evening the meeting in addition to Mr. White will be addressed by Rev. H N. Cameron, of Washington and Rev. Murray C. Reiter. The men's choral society of Monessen will render several selections this evening.

PEDESTRIANS HAVE RIGHTS CLAIMS JUDGE

Chief of Police C. W. Albright calls attention to the following press dispatch:

"Judge Sulzberger in the quarter session court at Philadelphia the other day said in refusing a new trial to William K. Hoskins, driver of an automobile convicted of man-slaughter for running down and killing a woman last fall, pedestrians have the right of way at street crossings and drivers of vehicles must recognize this right at their risk."

"In the course of his opinion Judge Sulzberger said: 'The defendant thinks that under the circumstances the decedent's death was an unavoidable accident.

"The term 'unavoidable accident' has been of late, much abused. It seems often to be applied to the result of the collision rather than to the cause. This error has been favored by the powerful body of opinion which receives with horror the notion that a class of persons, many of the well endowed with worldly goods and bearing a good reputation for honesty and good citizenship may be guilty of criminal conduct."

COAL SHIPPING RECORD FOR JUNE IS EXCEPTIONAL

Indications are that the river coal shipments for June will be a record breaker in every particular. More coal has passed through Lock No. 4 since the first of the month than in any month this year for the same length of time,

Much of the coal is being shipped down the Ohio and Mississippi to the Gulf of Mexico. Then the lake shipments have been increasing with the increase in activities of the iron shipments on the lakes.

SIX OR SEVEN MONTHS WORK YET TO FINISH LOCK

Construction of the new lock at Lock No. 4 is progressing rapidly. Most of the piling on the outside wall of the new lock has been driven. The concrete is being rapidly placed and if high water doesn't interfere one of the locks will be completed in from seven to eight months.

Often at this time of year there is a flood and the work is being rushed to get the work in good shape before the expected high water comes.
